Rules & Regulations

Competition opens to all. No one exhibitor may exhibit more than a total of 15 birds (poultry, bantams, waterfowl, or turkey). The SRC Fair Livestock Committee has the right to refuse any or all entries. Any birds showing signs of disease will not be accepted. Sick birds will be removed from the show area.

Santa Rosa County Fair Association, Inc. will use every precaution in the management of the show, but will not be responsible for any loss that might occur. Competent officials will handle cooping, feeding watering, and caring for the birds during the show and see that each bird is returned to its proper owner at the close of the show.

All entries must belong to the exhibitor, who must show his/her own stock. If found to be otherwise, the exhibitor will be disqualified and not eligible for premium awards.
Judging by a qualified judge will begin Thursday, March 29, 2018, 12:00 pm. Awards will be distributed at the closing of the fair if possible. Judging will be made under provision of the latest standards of perfections. All complaints made to the superintendent of the poultry department must be in writing. Sales will be permitted, but birds cannot be removed until the close of the fair. All entries consist of single specimens only (poultry, bantams, turkey, and waterfowl) When entering bantams must be clearly indicated.

All entries must be picked up by Sunday, April 1, 2018 between 7:00 pm & 8:00 pm or make arrangements with Fair Committee to pick up on Monday, April 2, 2018.

All chicken and turkeys going to public exhibition shall originate from pullorum—thyroid clean flocks or have proof of a negative pullorum test within 90 days prior to exhibition. Chickens or turkeys entered for exhibition purposes which are from pullorum—thyroid clean sources must be accompanied by a certificate of purpose from the hatchery or NPIP certified flock.

All chickens or turkeys entered for exhibition purposed must be free of, and must not have been exposed to, infection or contagious diseases of poultry.
